

TIP #3 Project Display Board Set-up:

If you choose to create a display board instead of a model for the visual representation of your project, it must be presented on a tri-fold display board in the following manner:

When When did the Supreme Court rule the case on? Where Where did the original events of the case take place? (#3) What What is the background story of the case? (#3) What What was the setting in the United States or in the State of the events at the time that set the stage for the case? (#2)	Title: Name of the Case Essential Question of the Case (#1) What What was the Constitutional issue related to the case? (#6) Pictures/Charts/Diagrams/ Cartoons/Images related to the case	Who Who were the persons involved in each side of the case? (#3) How How did each side in the case present their argument? (In other words, what arguments were presented in the case?) (#4) What What was the court's decision? (In other words, how did the Supreme Court answer the essential question?) (#7) Why Why was the final opinion or decision so important to America and its citizens? (In other words what was the impact of the court's decision and how did it change society or how the government works?) (#10)
